Urban drug gangs do not care how much suffering or damage they inflict on people's lives.

They recruit vulnerable adults and children to act as couriers to move drugs and cash to suburban or rural areas.

They often set up in a rural area, taking over the homes of vulnerable people (known as cuckooing) and use adults and children to act as runners for drugs.

But you have the power to stop the drug gangs.

Urban drug gangs do not care how much suffering or damage they inflict on people's lives.

These gangs sometimes take over the homes of victims (known as cuckooing). Some of the signs to look out for:

- Change in behaviour
- Use of different language e.g. Going Country; Cunch; Trapping; Shooters
- Associating with gangs
- Signs of assault and/or malnutrition
- Access to numerous phones
- Younger victims also includes: truancy/missign; bus/train tickets; tiredness; new clothing, trainers and cash
